Candle With A Message

[Technical Field]

This invention relates to a candle

[Background]

Candles for many years have been used as a source of light, gifts or souvenirs

[Essential Technical Features]

A candle made from manmade or natural materials is lit then burns to reveal an object in the middle. The object in the middle is made from a non combustable material which may carry a greeting, message or be representative of a landmark, attraction or company logo on a self supporting stand.

The object in the middle of the candle will be of varying sizes and shapes and colours. Any candle used may be scented and of varying sizes, shapes and colours.
